

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 20.

Leonard Scott & Co., New York, as a char tered publishing company, continue the publication of the British Reviews-Edinburg, Quarterly, Westminster, and North Britishand of Blackwood's Magazine. These periodicals are the most valuable of that class of works, in the English language; and we are pleased to see, that the arrangements for furnishing them to American readers, are permanent They have always been reprinted promptly, and in good style. In days before the late war, they had an extensive circulation in the South. The Reviews have various degrees of merit and the spirit and design of the Westminster on religious matters, are far from being acceptable to most readers in this country.

The National Intelligencer speaking of the political crisis upon which the country has anhapoily fallen, says:-"A collision, at some time, either before or soon after the Presidencial election, between the Congress faction and the conservative power of the people, may be, and is, apprehended. The Radical Congress cannot much longer refuse, without hazard to the public credit, to recognize the loyal States of the South and the loyal men whom they plect as their representatives. There are many 7ays in which difficulties might arise which would render legislation uncertain, and even stop the wheels of the Government entirely, if, indeed, the people are to tolerate and support inis Congress and their measures."

In the Radical Congressional Caucus held ast week. "Mr. Ingersoll, of Illinois, denounced President Johnson as a traitor-a nadman-in league with rabels and copperneads, and insisted on measures of precaution against his schemes. He said he had no perscarl interest or feeling in the matter. He had lought out his battle with the President, and and won it. But he would as soon trust a bull ne enine shop as Andrew Johnson in possession of power." This is but a specimen.

"Rev." Mr. Lindsay, who beat his three years old boy to death, with a shingle, at Medina, n Hew York, the other day, has his excusers. The Mew York Tribune comes to his assistance with the following apology: "Rational beings reed no evidence to prove that this man did not intend to murder his own child, he only neent to do what he mistakenly considered his Saty." Most of criminals put in the same

In the telegraphic dispatch from Brownlow, of Tean, to Mr. Forney, stating the recent proceedings in the Tennessee Legislature, he piosed with: "Give my respects to the dead nog of the White House!" This is perfectly maracteristic.

PROCEEDINGS OF CONGRESS -The Senate, resterday, passed the bill appropriating $50,000 or the relief of the sufferers by the fire at Portland, Me. The resolution from the House proposing to close the session of Congress on Nednesday next was called up, and after some debate it was laid on the table for the present. The bill for funding the national debt was then taken up and passed. A joint resolution was offered, and ordered to be printed, recognizing the government of the State of Tennessee, inaugurated by the convention of January, 1865, as the legitimate government of said State, enlittled to the guarantee and all other rights of a State government under the constitution of the Inited States.

The House passed several bills in relation to the District of Columbia, but laid on the table for the present session the canal and sewere ge bill. The bill relating to the safety of passengers on steam vessels, and the consular and didomatic bills, were finally passed, as also were the resolutions expressing unqualified disappropation of the conduct of General Fry in making certain charges against the Hon. Roscoe Conking. A resolution was then offered declaring that whereas the State of Tennessee has ratified the constitutional amendment she is declared to be restored to her former political relations to the Union, and entitled to representation in Congress, &c- Pending a call for the previous question on this resolution, the House adjourn-

The ups and downs of politicians and specu-'ators are not a little remarkable. A few months ago, Charles V. Culver was at the head of one of the most successful banking houses at New York (Culver, Penn & Co.,) and was establishing banks, building railroads, founding towns, and endowing churches and solleges in the oil regions of Pennsylvania. He was elected to Congress from the Twentieth Pennsylvania District, though he offered the Convention that nominated him $20,000 for party purposes if they would leave him to his business. But just then he was prosperous, rising and popular, and it is in the genius of American politics to elevate such men to public offices. A few weeks ago the dullness of in the presence of the Queen, the King and gregation, in the lot at the south-west corner makes the best of white, light, sweet, nutritious the oil trade and the extent of his business Queen of the Belgians, and a distinguished of the intersection of the main cross roads. On and wholesome bread. It is put up with twelve ventures and speculations necessitated the suspension of Mr. Culver's firm, and now he has gone to jail to await trial on the charge of fraudulently obtaining from the office of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania the bonds of the Petroleum and Venango Banks.-Rich.

A BILL has passed both houses of Congress, requiring the cities of Washington and Georgelown to pay over to the trustees of colored schools of said cities, such a proportionate part of all moneys received or expended for shool or educational purposes, in said cities, including the cost of sites, buildings, improvements, furpiture, and books, and all other expenditures on account of schools, as the colored children between the ages of six and seventeen years, in the respective cities, bear to the whole number of children, white and colored, between the some ages, and that the money shall be considared due and payable to said trustees on the Erst day of October of each year, and if not then paid over to them, interest at the rate of ten per contum per annum on the amount unpaid may be demanded and collected from the authorities of the delinquent city by said trusNEWS OF THE DAY.

A heavy thunder storm, accompanied by torrents of rain, occurred in New York on Wednesday afternoon. Several places were struck by lightning. A block of twelve unfinished brick buildings on Warren street, Brooklyn, was nearly destroyed by lightning and the gale. St. John's Chapel was set on fire in the city, and the steeple of St. Theresa's Church was struck.

A new proposition, on the part of the radical leaders, is now brought forward, by which the impatience of the House for an adjournment can be reconciled with a plan for heading off the President. Thus, Mr. Stevens proposes that Congress, when they adjourn, adjourn to meet on the 3d of December next, unless sooner called together by the presiding officers of the

The steamer San Salvador arrived at quarantine below Savannah yesterday, with 500 recruits on board for the 7th regulars. Twentyeight cases of cholera and three deaths occurred, one after arriving at Tybee Bar and one or two after the troops landed on Tybee Island. There was no sickness among the cabin passengers, but they will be kept at quarantine fifteen

In San Francisco the police have discovered a gang of thieves, the oldest of whom is not over 16 or 17 years of age, with a regular or ganization, who have constructed caverns underneath sidewalks in unfrequented localities, in which they burrow, and from which they construct tunnels to adjacent stores, conveying their stolen goods thence to the upper air.

The report that a large number of 5 20 gold coupons have been issued surreptitiously, and that they are paid when presented, there being no way of detecting them, is incorrect, as has been ascertained by inquiry of the proper officers of the Treasury Department. No bonds or coupons have been surreptitiously issued.

A resolution lately passed both houses of Congress to provide for a joint committee on retrenchment, and the first result of it is a bill increasing twenty-five or thirty per cent. the salaries of all the employees of the Senate, which will, of course, be followed by a corresponding one in the House.

When General Sherman reached Worces ter, on Friday, an enthusiastic genius in the crowd called for "three cheers for the next President, General Sherman," but the General protested that he was not a candidate, and said that during the next campaign he would be fighting the Indians.

The oldest man in Allegany county, Md., is a colored person named Daniel Jackson, residing on Murley's Branch. He is 110 years of age, and possesses a mind of remarkable clearness; speaks quickly and firmly as in days of youth. Dan was a servant to an officer in the revolutionary war.

In the British House of Lords, on the 5th, Lord Brougham adverted to the hostile state of Europe. He hoped a congress would be shortly held, and peace firmly established. He did not think Venetia ought to belong to Italy, but at the same time, ought to be freed from the Austrian voke.

The Secretary of the Interior yesterday, received a telegram from General John A Dix, President of the Union Pacific Railroad, stating that an additional section of twenty miles of said road was completed on the 18th, instant, making one hundred and forty-five (145) in all.

It is stated that the President, after a close examination of the evidence in Colonel Paulding's case, has approved the findings and sentence of the court which tried him, and peremptorily refused to interfere in the execution of the sentence.

The Secretary of the Treasury has authoriz ed the acceptance of Seven-thirties from any holders, in exchange for Five-twenty bonds of 1865, upon equal terms as respects principal, the interest being adjusted according to the amount due on each security.

It is rumored that the Cunard Company's steamers will be with drawn from Boston on the termination of their postal contract, and will run between Liverpool, Halifax and New York. It is generally believed that Mr. H. R. Hulbard, Deputy Comp troller of the Currency, will succeed Mr. Clarke as Comptroller. He is at present acting in that capacity. A convention of Fire Insurance companies held in New York, has determined to advance the rates of insurance 10 per cent.

The striking event in Congress yesterday was the tabling in the Senate of the House resolution for adjournment.

The intemperate speeches delivered in the two recent Radical Congressional caucuses meet universal reprobation.

Gov. Brownlow telegraphed to Washington vesterday that the Legislature of Tennessee had passed the Constitutional amendment in the lower House by a vote of 43 to 11. He adds that two of the members refused to vote. He does not say whether a quoram of the House was present or not.

The following special despatch was received. NASHVILLE, TENN., July 19.-Fifty-four members, two less than a quorum, pretended to pass the constitutional amendment to-day. Williams and Martin were prisoners under arrest, and not in the House, but detained in another room. Judge Frazier has just decided against the Legislature in the writ of habeas corpus case.

A WILD VARMINT. -The Cincinnati Commercial says: The catamount that attacked Mr. Teachout, the telegraph operator, at Tantalon, Tennessee, a few days ago, made a brisk fight. It made its appearance at the house of Mr. Barnes, and leaped on the bed where an infant was lying, which, however, it did not harm .-It then repaired to the yard and made fearful havor among the poultry. There it was attacked by a colored woman with an axe. It turned upon her, whereupon she beat a hasty retreat. It then went to the telegraph office, where it immediately attacked the operator, Mr. Teachout, springing at his throat and dragging him to the floor. He succeeded in grasping it by the throat, but not until he was severely bitten, and his clothes partly torn off. The noise of the struggle attracted the attention of Mr. James Stringer, who was in the adjoining room, by whose assistance Mr. Teachout was rescued from the clutches of the ferocious beast. It then made off with a broken leg received in the encounter. It was then attacked by five dogs, fighting them with great fury, whipping them in a few moments, then ran into a door-yard, where it was killed by a stone thrown by a courageous young lady. The animal measured five feet in length.

In his address at Norfolk, last Saturday night, upon rebuilding the churches of the South, ex-Governor Wise stated that "more than twelve hundred churches had been utterly destroyed in the Southern States, during the war," in addition to the vast numbers that had been "polluted, defiled, defaced and impaired." COMMUNICATED.

A Reminiscence-Female Stranger, &c. About the year 1818 a gentleman and lady out up at the old City Hotel, then kept by the late Jesse Brown. It is not remembered what name the gentleman passed by, and it was not the fashion, here at least, in those days to keep a register. The gentleman was polished and polite; the lady was young and handsome.— She was taken ill, and died after a short illness, after the kind attentions bestowed by some ladies, and especially one, Mrs. S., who was benevolence personified, and has, some years since, gone to her reward. A fine tomb was erected to the memory of the "Female Stranger," over the stone may still be read Pope's epitaph on an unfortunate lady-

How loved, how henored once avails thee not, To whom related or by whom begot;

A heap of dust alone remains of thee, 'Tis all thou art, and all the proud shall be.' But notwithstanding the fine sentiment of his chosen epitaph, the gentleman was a cheat and a swindler. He drew a sterling bill of exchange to defray the expense incurred, which bill was cashed by an old firm here-Lindsay & Hill .-The bill was returned protested. Some years afterwards Mr. Hill chanced to go into the New York State prison, and there, among the convicts, he saw the fine gentleman of the "tomb." The keeper allowed Mr. H. to speak to him. -"Mr. ——," said Hill, "the bill you sold us boat on the shore, that will be sold low to an was protested." "Is it possible," said the one buying or renting. [my 30-tf] T. P. chevalier, "then I will give you another." - As Mr. Hill did not expect a convict's bill to be honored, he left. The above facts are substantially true, as some of our fellow-citizens may remember.

The substance of the above has been published in the town papers, occasionally, for cash. twenty years past. We should be glad to see the proof upon which it is based. Bring up Mr. Hill and let him testify.

There was a Radical meeting in Washington last night, which was addressed by Gov. Hamilton, of Texas, and Gen. Logan. The speeches were of the ultra radical stamp, and appeals were made to Congress not to adjourn.

ASSETS, over $16,000,000.

To meet the choice of such present or future members as may prefer to have the amout insured paid in instalments to their widows or heirs, rather than in one sum, this Company is prepared to insert in its policies a clause agreeing that in lieu of the payment of the policy and profits in one sum, an equitable amount, to be determined by the Company, may be paid annually or semi-annually for any specified number of years, (say from five to twenty-five

EXAMPLE.—Suppose a policy of $10,000, with additions amounting to $5,000 more, should become payable by reason of the death of the person insured, the Company, in lieu of the payment of $15,000 in one sum, would be able to give (assuming interest as realized in the past) an annuity for ten years of over $2,000 per annum, or for twenty years an annuity of over $1,300 per annum.

This form of annuity will remove the anxiety which may exist in the minds of some policy holders lest the future provision they have made for their families should be ineffectual or transitory in its duration, either through unsafe investments, unwise expenditure, or other uncertainties incidental to contingent trusts.

It is not only free from the ordinary dangers of investment, but its punctual and full payment is secured by the large and solid cash resources and good faith of this institution, which thus, to a certain extent, becomes the guardian or trustee of the survivors. Hence the provision may be considered, humanly speaking, beyond any adverse contingency. All such deferred payments or annuities will share equitably in the profits or dividends of the Company.

This Company also issues Survivorship Annuities, which provide for survivors during the whole period of life, and Deferred Annuities, by which individuals may provide for themselves in advanced age.

F. S. WINSTON President.

The undersigned begs to call the attention of those who desire to make provision for their families, to the advantages offered by the above MAGNIFICENT INSTITUTION. There is no way in which a small sum of money can be so profitably and securely invested, for such a purpose, as in a policy on your life. Forty-Five Cents a week will insure $1,000 on the life of a man aged 30, and the payment of a single premium ecures (and at once) a very much larger sum than he investment of the same amount could possibly do in the ordinary operations of trade. The following descriptions of Policies are issued by this Company, the premiums on which may be paid yearly, half-yearly, or quarterly, at the option of the party assured:

1st. LIFE POLICIES, for the whole term of life, payable, together with the dividend additions, after the death of the party assured, to the peron entitled to receive the same.

2d. Endowment Assurance Policies .-These are issued to persons desirous of making provision for advanced life, or any other purpose, and are payable, together with accrued dividends on same, to the assured party, on attaining a cer-tain age, say 40, 45, 50, 55, 60 or 65, or in case of his death before arriving at that age, to his heirs

3d. ENDOWMENT POLICIES FOR CHILDREN payable when a child attains the age of 18, 21 or 25, or upward, either with or without the return of the total premium paid, in case the party assured does not attain the specified age.

4th. Survivorship Annuity Policies, by which an insurer may secure to a surviving nominee, whether wife, parent, child, or friend, the enjoyment of a certain definite and permanent income for life, free alike from the dangers and expenses of investing money and from dependence upon persons who may perhaps prove injudicious or adversely interested

All policies issued by this Company parcicipate in the surplus, the whole of which be ANNUALLY DIVIDED, in the most equitable manner, among the Policy-holders. Applications received and information furnished, at my Office, No. 73, Prince street, Alexandria, Va.
